DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-38, drawn to an invention of a bulk material heat exchanger, classified in class 165, subclass 166.
- II. Claims 39-44, drawn to an invention of a method of automated cleaning of an exterior surface of a heat exchanger, classified in class 134, subclass 21.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product such as a method as in claim 39 or 41 or 42 or by hand brushing the heat exchanger.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

There are six distinct species of heat exchangers:

Art Unit: 3743

Species A: Figure 1

Species B: Figures 7,8a and 8b

Species C: Figures 9, 10a and 10b

Species D: Figures 11,12 and 13a

Species E: Figures 13b and 13c;

Species F: Figures 14 and 15.

In addition, there are several distinct species of cleaning apparatus: Species of figures 20; 21c; 22a;22b;22c;23 and 24 in which species of figure 20 utilizing vacuum cleaning methods and the rest of the species involve different rotating support bars and cam structure for cleaning the heat exchanger.

Furthermore, there are several distinct species of closing a tube, the species are species of figures 3a,3b,3c,3d and 3e.

At last, there are several distinct species of attaching a support element on the tube wall, the species are species of figures 6a; 6b; and 6c.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 1 is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Art Unit: 3743

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

A telephone call was attempted to make to the attorney Mr. Stephen J. Lewellyn Tel: 727-345-1450 as listed in the application on 8/31/2004 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made because, the attorney can not be contacted by the listed telephone number.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
